

NOTE FROM THE EDITORS

The Editorial Board would like to acknowledge two milestones which the Vermont Law Review will reach on our watch: the twentieth anniversary of the Vermont Law Review, and the publication of four volumes of the Review in one academic year. These two important achievements would not be possible but for the tireless dedication of prior editorial boards, and are the latest milestones in a short history which has witnessed the rise of the Vermont Law Review from a single volume journal to a nationally recognized, multi-volume journal. The 1995-1996 Editorial Board would like to salute all the members, past and present, of Vermont Law Review for a job well done, and to challenge future Review members to continue in the fine tradition of those who have come before.

